Personal Statement

I am currently studying at the University of Waikato undertaking a Bachelor of Computer Science degree. I am interested in understanding the process and transition from code to the real world and its connection. I want to be able to create applications that will be important and useful for clients and users to help make their experience greater. I believe my chosen degree will help me achieve my goals. I am dependable, diligent, determined, concise, and can collaborate well with people. My main goal is to land a role in Tech, specifically in Software Engineering and Coding, because learning how to build things that highlight visual outcomes is what I view as enjoyment.

Employment History

November 2022 – January 2023

Hallenstein's Brothers Taupo

Casual sales assistant

Working at a retail store enhanced my ability to communicate with customers and my co-workers. Communication is key when it comes to any role because it establishes certainty and clarity. This role also allowed me to sharpen my skills in working under pressure, especially when there would be a variety of customers to deal with while also having lots of jobs to do in the background. This taught me how to manage and prioritize tasks according to their importance.

June 2023 – Present

Hallenstein's Brothers Te Rapa

Part-time Worker-In-Charge

Charge

After moving to Hamilton for Uni, I realized I needed to have a stable income while at Uni, I decided to return to Hallenstein's Brothers because I already had experience with the company which meant less time spent on training. This allowed me to quickly bounce back and make me able to balance Uni study and work; this role is important because it developed my time management skills not only in a work setting but also in day-to-day life. Being a worker-in-charger tasks me with doing the basic sales assistant jobs but also includes more leadership roles such as floating the cash in/out at the beginning or end of the day, also requires me to oversee exchanges and refunds and occasionally run the day.
